✓ THINK ONLINE RESOURCES

Many web sites offer good pandemic planning tips:

- The Federal government's www.PandemicFlu.gov contains facts, figures and tips on flu preparation.
- The U.S. Occupational Safety and Health Administration's (OSHA) Web site, www.OSHA.gov offers guidance to assist employers in preparing for a flu pandemic.
- The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) Web site, www.CDC.gov/flu/avian, provides information on the disease itself, which includes regions of the world affected, symptoms and up-to date healthcare recommendations.
- The most popular private websites to put on your bookmark are www.FluRadar.com for up-to-date news specifically for flu pandemic and www.SafetyIssues.com for all kinds of safety information, including pandemic flu news and planning resources.

Pandemic Resources

✓ THINK LOCAL

Many cities and counties, along with states, have developed detailed pandemic plans with checklists of recommended activities. Call your local county or state health department for information on pandemic planning.

✓ THINK EMERGENCY

Contact your local state emergency preparedness center. This center has the protocols on how to work with the local healthcare facilities, government, fire, police and rescue organizations for a coordinated and consistent response to potential crisis.

BECOME FAMILIAR WITH THEIR STAFF AND THEIR PROCEDURES BEFORE YOU NEED TO!
